

Archaeology Field School in Barkley Sound

Program Information

Program Name	Archaeology Field School in Barkley Sound
General Description / Special Programs	UVic Archaeology field school in Barkley Sound is a six-week field school hosted by the UVic Department of Anthropology and the Bamfield Marine Sciences Centre on southwestern Vancouver Island. The field school takes place in the lands and territories of two neighbouring Nuu-chah-nulth Nations, Tseshahht and Huu-ay-aht. The first four days of the field school will be based in Victoria followed by two and a half weeks of remote camp-based fieldwork in Tseshahht First Nation territories in the Broken Group Islands in Pacific Rim National Park Reserve. The final 3-weeks of the course will be spent in Huu-ay-aht First Nation territory at the Bamfield Marine Sciences Centre (a UVic supported teaching and research facility in Barkley Sound) where students will conduct laboratory analyses and prepare written research reports on recovered archaeological material. This course will be an immersive 6-week field experience (including hiking, camping, and boat travel) and require full days and dedicated teamwork. Costs for running the course includes course fees to enable us to conduct this remote camp and dormitory-based fieldwork. Fees will include $700 (for UVic Students) or $900 (for Non-UVic students) paid to the UVic Department of Anthropology for the first half of the field school and $1,400 for the second half of the field school in Bamfield. Your deposit is part of these fees. These costs do not include tuition and any application costs associated with non-UVic students.
