

California Academy of Sciences, Department of Anthropology

Program Information

Program Name	California Academy of Sciences, Department of Anthropology
General Description / Special Programs	The Department's activities cover much of the breadth of modern anthropology. The Department organizes regular symposia in anthropology sponsored by the Wattis Foundation on current anthropological issues. Past symposium topics have included Pleistocene colonization of the New World, the origins and diversification of language, and contemporary issues in human evolution. The proceedings from the Wattis Symposium are published as Memoirs of the California Academy of Sciences. Associated with the research conducted are the Dikika Research Project and the East African Association for Paleoanthropology and Paleontology.
