

Adelphi University, Department of Anthropology

Program Information

Program Name	Adelphi University, Department of Anthropology
General Description / Special Programs	The Adelphi University Department of Anthropology offers individualized undergraduate training for the 21st century. Our faculty incorporate undergraduates in a variety of research opportunities including ethnography, site excavation, forensic and artifact analyses, climate and human ecological studies. Our students gain practical experience in research, written and oral communication, and analytical skills. Students graduate with an understanding of the pressing issues that face our global community and with highly marketable skill sets, as demonstrated by our alumni, who are successfully employed in a wide range of occupations. Our intensive focus on undergraduate education is demonstrated by a strong record of graduate admissions and successful employment.
