

USDA Forest Service, Rocky Mountain Research Station, Cultural Heritage Research Work Unit

Program Information

Program Name	USDA Forest Service, Rocky Mountain Research Station, Cultural Heritage Research Work Unit
General Description / Special Programs	Cultural Heritage Research is the only unit in Forest Service Research concerned with anthropology and history. The research program addresses topics in sustainable development, global change, cultural diversity in land use, anthropogenic environmental change, and heritage management throughout the United States.
Established
Country	UNITED STATES
State	NM
City	Albuquerque
Address Line 1	333 Broadway SE
Address Line 2	Suite 115
Address Line 3
Zip	87102-3497
Fax	(505) 724-3688
Phone1	(505) 724-3660
Phone2
Email1
Email2
Email3
Website

Program Details

Internships Available
Internship Required
Publications	Rocky Mountain Research Station General Technical Reports

